

Scott Myers is a Principal at Tunnell Consulting and has over 25 years in Quality, Operations, functional managerial and wide business leadership in the emerging pharmaceutical, biotech and cell and gene therapy sectors. He is adept at identifying and controlling risks associated with the development and commercialization of new products and is known for his expertise in the interpretation and execution of domestic and international cGMP requirements. Focused on making his clients successful, he has adept at relationship building and ensuring high quality results from both himself his teams.

Scott has held roles of increasing levels of responsibility with Boehringer Ingelheim, most recently as Executive Director, Compliance and Quality Oversight where he was the lead for Compliance and Environmental, Health & Safety (EHS) teams and was the program leader for the consent decree program. Previously, he was Executive Director, Launch where his team ensured high quality as well as timely and cost effective product launches for the US and global markets. His experiences in Quality Assurance, Quality Control and Manufacturing and his wide industry network benefits his clients with a positive impact on their culture, leadership development and standardization of processes.

Scott has a BS in Pharmacy from the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science and is a Registered Pharmacist.

In his free time, Scott is busy with his family and friends enjoying sharing the output his backyard grill and smoker!

Scott has been an active member of PDA since 2012 and a PDA Midwest board member since 2018.